

Voting While Homeless or in a Non-Traditional Living Situation

Every eligible voter in Texas has the fundamental right to cast a ballot that is fairly and accurately counted, including those who are homeless or in a non-traditional living situation.

- Can I register to vote and cast a ballot if I'm currently homeless or living in a shelter?

YES, you can register to vote by listing the location where you “reside” in Texas. For instance, you can list your shelter's address on your voter registration form if that is your home and the fixed place you return to. If you are homeless, then you can describe the location that you return to regularly that you consider your home, such as by listing your street corner or park.

- Do I need a mailing address to register to vote?

YES, but your mailing address does not have to be the same location as where you are living. You can list instead the address where you can and do receive mail if that is different from where you reside.

- Can I still register to vote at my current location even if I just started living there today?

YES, you can register to vote at your current location even if you just moved there.

- Can I still vote even if I don't have an ID with my current address on it?

YES, the ID you use to vote does not need to have your current address on it. For a list of IDs you can use to go vote, you can find more information here.
